ASPIRANTS FOR SUPREME COURT ADDRESS MANY VOTERS AT COURTHOUSE

Three Candidates Speak Here Monday—Hon. Robert L. Genin Master of Ceremonies—Judge Griffith Comments on Ovation

Bay St. Louis was the scene Monday night of a most enthusiastic political gathering when many Coast residents and almost all of Hancock county voting population turned out to hear the three candidates for state supreme court judge present their claims. The auditorium at the courthouse was packed and many stood to hear the speakers. In conformity with an agreement entered into between the three candidates they would make all their speaking engagements jointly and according to the schedule mapped out by the speakers appeared at Logtown Monday morning and at Bay St. Louis Monday night, the only two engagements made in Hancock county.

Each of the three candidates for supreme judge from this district, namely, Judge V. A. Griffith, of Gulfport, Judge R. W. Cutrer, of Magnolia, and Judge W. J. Pack, of Laurel, made excellent addresses and were heartily welcomed by the Bay St. Louis audience.

Robert L. Genin of Bay St. Louis acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the speakers to the audience. Judge W. J. Pack spoke first, presenting as his chief claim for reelection his present position as incumbent, saying that he believed he should be permitted to complete the term, and resting on his law experience his claim for suitability for the office.

Judge R. W. Cutrer in his address based his particular claim to the office primarily on a geographic situation, declaring that using an imaginary dividing line the seventh district, which extends from the Louisiana to the Alabama lines, should be represented by a judge from the eastern and a judge from the western part of this district; that Judge Cook of Hattiesburg already represented the eastern part of this suppositional geographic division, and that he desired to represent the western part. He also pointed to his 14 years as a successful practitioner.

Judge Griffith spoke last, resting his claim for promotion on the contribution he has made to the bar and bench of the state in the legislation he has promoted. He pointed to the reformed practice in chancery court in the state, embodied in the Chancery Practice Act of 1924, of which he was author. His work in reform, the books he has written, especially his Mississippi Chancery Practice, the statutes for which he has been largely responsible and his record as a practicing chancery judge for affirmances in the state, and his leading points emphasized by Judge Griffith. Chancellor V. A. Griffith, the Coast candidate declared the crowd that came to hear him and his two opponents at the Bay was the largest that had greeted them during the entire campaign thus far.

KILN RESIDENT IS HERO IN RESCUING THREE FROM WATER

Mrs. Zedie Cooley and Two Daughters Almost Drown in Bayou Talla Waters

Eddie Kendrick, formerly of New Orleans but now a resident of Kiln, a young man of about twenty years of age, proved himself a hero Wednesday of last week when he rescued from drowning Mrs. Zedie Cooley and two daughters, Margaret and Ruby, and Mary Scroggins, who were swimming in the waters of Bayou Talla at the old mill site near Kiln. The women were in swimming and neither could swim very well, and they stepped off into quite deep water and were unable to reach the bank. Young Kendrick who was standing near the bayou and who heard their cries for help as they got into deep water plunged into the bayou bringing them safely to shore. The feat accomplished by Mr. Kendrick of bringing four frightened women to shore from deep water was most noteworthy and shows his heroism and ability to act quickly and successfully in an emergency.

Among those present to hear the candidates were Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam, Representative Bryan Russell, Ex-Senator Carl Marshall, Judge D. M. Russell, former chancellor of the Hattiesburg district and now an attorney at Gulfport. Many attorneys from along the Coast were in attendance including J. L. Taylor of Gulfport.

MEMBERS OF OLD GUARD ORGANIZATION ASSEMBLE AT CLERMONT HARBOR

Mustered Out Four Years Ago Again Meet In Pleasant Association—Captain C. L. Waller and Lieut. E. J. Arceneaux Presented With Tokens of Appreciation

The old Howitzer Company of the 155th Infantry National Guards which was organized in the Bay several years ago and which served three years in the guards, being mustered out about four years ago, enjoyed a most delightful reunion Saturday night when the company met for a banquet at Harbor Inn, Clermont Harbor. Thirty-five of the 60 members of the former company answered roll call. The men met at the court house in the Bay and answered "here" when First Sergeant Henry Capdepon called the roll. A beautifully decorated table in which the spirit of the nation prevailed greeted them.

Captain Curtis Waller, formerly of the Bay, organizer and forceful director of the old company, who is now practicing law in Tallahassee, Florida, came to the Bay for this occasion. As the caravan was halted at Harbor Inn by First Lieutenant E. J. Arceneaux and the command to "fall out" given, the old company again lived in its action to command. As the men formed into the banquet hall the corporal of the guard on post No. 1, gave the command "at ease" and soon all had their sleeves rolled up and were comfortable. The bell sounded the company in single file found seats. The chair was turned over to Captain Waller by Lt. Arceneaux and the captain presided through the dinner as toastmaster.

Captain Waller made a fine address telling the boys that his greatest happiness in the meeting was a realization that not one of the members of the old company were dead, all living and well. He recalled numerous incidents of the life together of the members. He spoke of his own pleasure in being present on this memorable occasion.

The effect of his speech was so telling that, as one of the officers expressed it, "He could have represented the Howitzer Company in fifteen minutes to its full strength if he had wanted to."

having been chosen lieutenant, an honor he will always cherish, he said. Ed Keller, known to his company friends as "Captain Starling's Friend" gave an impressive talk which was appreciated by all.

Presented Gifts.
Sgt. A. G. Favre, acting for the company, presented to both Captain Waller and Lieutenant Arceneaux handsome remembrances in the form of leather wallets with emblem in gold and initialed. The captain and lieutenant expressed their deep gratitude for the honor thus shown them by the men.

Sgt. Henry Capdepon, Sgt. Edwin Prevou and Douglas Bourgeois each were called upon for talks and responded fittingly.

Organized Howitzer Club.
A permanent organization to be known as the Howitzer Club was effected, this club to meet once a year for a social occasion. Captain C. L. Waller was elected president; Lieut. E. J. Arceneaux was chosen vice-president; Sgt. Henry Capdepon was elected secretary and Emilio Cue was chosen treasurer. The acclamation which greeted the organization of the club bespeaks for it a hearty membership of enthusiastic members.

L. & N. R. R. CO. IS ATTRACTING PEOPLE TO MISS. GULF COAST

Residents of Middle West Offered Reduced Summer Rates to This Section

In order that the people of the middle west may be induced to travel this way when planning their summer vacations, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company is offering especially attractive rates from the Louisville territory to all points on the Mississippi Coast. Tickets for these trips will be sold at all points affected on August 4, August 25 and September 15 and will be good for fifteen days from date of purchase. These excursion rates will be honored on all trains and in all Pullman cars, with of course the usual addition of Pullman or surcharge. It is suggested that residents of the Mississippi Coast who have friends in this section of the country around this south of Louisville might take this occasion to invite them for a visit. There is no doubt in the world but that, once the residents of the section directly north of here realize how enjoyable a season spent on Mississippi seashore may be, we will have our full share of summer visitors each year. The very prevalent idea that this section must be warmer than the interior, for the reason only that it is farther south, can only be corrected by inducing personal visits in sufficiently large numbers to have the gospel of our wonderful climate and satisfactory recreational facilities preached everywhere.

MARSHALL BALLARD PAYS TRIBUTE TO BUSINESS WOMEN

Astute Editor Addresses Pass Christian Club At Hotel Banquet Mon. Night

Marshall Ballard, editor of the Item-Tribune of New Orleans, the leading speaker at the meeting Monday night of the Pass Christian Business and Professional Women's Club which was held at the Hotel Weston. He chose for his subject a discussion of the growth of women in business and the profession. He paid women in business a high compliment for their success and remarked upon the efficiency they had acquired in business and the professions, seeing in their rapid advancement cause for wonder because of the few years in which they have been given an equal place with men. He introduced a vein of fun by saying that although women were successful in business or a profession that sooner or later each of them would relinquish these hard won places to some man, namely at the time they married.

Mrs. Ballard, a special guest for the occasion, spoke before Mr. Ballard telling of her experiences as a medical student and congratulating the business and professional women present on their success in the modern business and professions are open to women, more freely than in the time of her medical experience.

The table for the dinner had been arranged in the dining room of the Hotel Weston, a decoration of vines and white blossoms being prettily arranged along the center of the table.

Mrs. Wm. Adam, secretary, said the grace and the club sang, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," to open the meeting. Guests were introduced. There were a number of guests from the Bay and from New Orleans. Miss Martha Nelson sang two numbers, "Kashmiri" and "Swan". Miss Anna Louise Liverdage accompanied her at the piano. After dinner Miss Nelson sang again, giving "Just a Cottage Small" and "The Lilac Tree".

The attendance prize donated by Mrs. Guy Hanson and drawn for by all present was won by Mrs. J. C. Liverdage, a guest.

A stant program which created much amusement was directed by Miss Miriam Engman who had been largely responsible for the club enjoying this pleasant meeting in the Bay. The meeting closed with a song.

SHERIFF JONES AND PARTY MAKE RAID FLAT TOP, SATURDAY

Seven Pints Liquor Found on Tom Martin's Farm—To Appear Biloxi Aug. 4

Federal officers Jim Goff and Childers, Sheriff J. C. Jones and deputies L. E. Miller and Will Hobbs formed a raiding party which went to the farm of Tom Martin of the Flat Top community Saturday afternoon, and raiding the place found seven pints of liquor hidden in various places about the farm. He was arrested and let out under bond to appear before U. S. Commissioner George Money at Biloxi in Federal Court August 4.

The same afternoon these officers raided the home of John Morris, negro, where four quarts of liquor and half a gallon of wine were found. He was tried before Justice of the Peace Freeman Jones at Logtown, was found guilty, sentenced to $150 fine and 30 days in jail.

GOES TO HOSPITAL.
W. W. Stockstill, local attorney was taken Sunday afternoon on a stretcher to the Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, quite ill and will undergo an operation of a serious nature.

BREATH, JR. IN SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Nose and Finger Injured By Propeller of Speedboat In Which Turned Over

C. A. Breath, Jr., of Bay St. Louis was injured Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock while driving his speedboat, the Mercury. Mr. Breath had gone to New Orleans to enter his craft in the speedboat races which were scheduled to be held last Sunday but which were postponed until the latter part of August because of the rough water. He was trying out his boat, heading from the canal at West End into Lake Pontchartrain when the accident occurred in which he was injured. As Mr. Breath in the Mercury went from the canal into the lake, the Aviatix, a heavy speedboat, owned and captained by Walter They with Romy Barrouse as helmsman, entered the head of the Canal ready to head into the lake from the Lake. Each man attempted to swerve his boat in an effort to avoid contact but each man seemed to turn his craft just enough to avoid a head-on collision, the two boats leaning toward each other by reason of their weight and causing a side swipe.

The Mercury was so struck by the collision that Mr. Breath was thrown from his boat into the water and as he fell he was struck on the nose by the propeller of the boat. As he was cut in the nose he threw his arm across his face to protect his face and his right hand was badly cut. His nose was almost broken by the injury. Mr. Breath was taken to the Baptist Hospital where he remained until Tuesday when he came to his home in the Bay.

Neither the captain nor engineer of the Aviatix were injured.

Both boats were quite badly damaged and much repair will be necessary on the Mercury as a result of the unfortunate collision.

The Mercury was taken to New Orleans on a trailer by C. A. Breath, Sr., C. A. Breath, Jr., Howard Bonck, and Ernest Irwin. After the accident Mr. Breath, Sr., went to the hospital to be with his son and later returned to the Bay by train. Messrs. Bonck and Irwin bringing the Mercury home that night by trailer.

The Mercury was recently built by Mr. Breath here in the Bay and this craft was most successful in winning races in the Biloxi regatta and in the recent outboard motor races in the Bay. Young Breath is an intrepid boatman and his injury is much regretted not only by friends but by sportsmen.

"OUR PAT" GETS RECOGNITION FROM NAT'L. DEM. COM.

Mississippi's own beloved Pat, Senator P. B. Harrison, has been honored by John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, by an appointment to be a member of the advisory committee which will serve during the campaign of 1928.

His activities in aiding Governor Harrison in New York for some time, as the advisory committee will operate from the General Motors building in there.

Other committee members appointed by National Chairman Raskob are: Senator Peter Goette, Rhode Island; Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Representative Parker Corning, New York; National Committeeman J. Bruce Kromer, Montana; Representative William E. Oldfield, Arkansas; J. J. Shouse, Kansas; Senator Millard E. Tydings, Maryland.

Civic Commission For Clermont.

A number of prominent citizens met a few evenings ago in public assembly and discussed ways and means for further civic improvement of Clermont Harbor, Waveland's and Lakeshore's next door neighbor.

Residents of that beautiful and fast growing resort planned to further improve the place, particularly the streets and sidewalks.

H. S. Weston, president Board of Supervisors, was present by invitation and addressed the gathering. His remarks as to roads, drainage and culverts were highly illuminating, stressing on county improvement what to do and not to do.

He assured his hearers of the building of the roadway connecting that section with the Regolets free bridge and stated this project was only a matter of time before it would be made fully a matter of reality.

BAY-WAVELAND ROADWAY PAVING MAKING RAPID HEADWAY

Contract for Sidewalk and Beach Curb Separate Contract—Work Begins Soon

Almost a mile of reinforced concrete paving on the Bay-Waveland roadway at the top of the seawall had been completed Monday, when measurements showed approximately 4,300 feet poured, J. C. Nisbet, engineer, stated. The Southern Paving Construction Company is rushing the job of laying pavement and as soon as the sidewalk and curb have been poured and allowed to set the roadway will be opened to traffic.

The sidewalk and curb contract has been sublet by the Southern Paving Construction Company to J. C. King of McComb and Mr. King arrived in the Bay Tuesday and work on the sidewalk and curb have begun.

The sidewalk which abuts the top of the seawall is approximately four and a half feet wide curb or balustrade twenty inches in height and a foot wide will be placed just inside the sidewalk between the sidewalk and the twenty four foot street. This curb is designed as a protection to motorists to prevent them from running over the seawall. An arched driveway is allowed under the curb at intervals to permit water to drain from the street to the Bay.

TWO SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH ORDER RECEIVE DEGREES

Sister St. John Baptist and Sister Veronica Receive B. A. Degrees

New Orleans papers of Sunday carried an item of interest to every person in Bay St. Louis. This city has been favored, with institutions of learning for many years; and these have more than kept pace with the requirements of modern education; in fact, our city leads the cities of the entire Coast in this respect, and it is with civic pride we note the success of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

On Saturday, June 28th two Sisters received the degree of Bachelor of Arts conferred by Loyola University. Sister St. John Baptist, who after completing her minor subjects of English and Philosophy, chose as her major subject, "Education" and received her degree in this subject. Sister Veronica's minor subject was Latin and she was granted a Bachelor's Degree in "English."

Many other Sisters attended the courses at the University. Some have already finished their B. A. and Ph. D. courses and are now well on their way to the Master's Degree. Others have specialized in subjects leading to the Bachelor's Degree. These subjects include Dramatic Poetry, Sociology, Philosophy, Child Psychology, Mathematics and History. This of course is nothing new for the Sisters of St. Joseph's, because this Academy has been represented at Loyola since the first summer school, but it is pleasing to note that every year the courses are more satisfactory. We wish to congratulate the Sisters of St. Joseph's on the excellent record they have made at Loyola and we wish to add the fact that we will benefit by this training, for these teachers will devote their talents to the welfare of future citizens of Bay St. Louis.

OUTBOARD MOTOR RACES TO TAKE PLACE AUGUST 19

Next Number of Season Series to Be Offered Under Auspices of Weston

The next outboard motor boat races will be held at Bay St. Louis Sunday, August 19. C. A. Breath, Sr., of Breath & Cue, local agents for Johnson motors, who sponsored the former two successful races here, announced this week. For these next races trophies will be offered by the Weston interests and others interested in furthering this sport on the Coast. It had been thought that races might be held August 5, but no races will be held on that date, Mr. Breath said.

Supervisor Moran Will Represent Hancock County.

Jos. P. Moran, supervisor from beat 4, has been chosen by the Hancock county board of supervisors to represent Hancock county aboard the Know Mississippi Better Train this year. Mr. Moran will go on the train which leaves Jackson August 6, and which will tour the North, going inland this year. Mr. Moran will be supplied with adequate literature describing the Coast and Bay section and he is informed of the values of this section through his own residence here and through his own interest in the growth of the section. He will make it his business to tell those people who are seen along the route of the charm which belongs to this area and of its immediate developments and future.

MOTOR TO NEW YORK.

Clifford Dell and Foster Fournier are leaving this week for New York by motor. They plan to be away two or three weeks on a pleasure trip.

NATIONAL GUARD CAMP MEMBERS FROM BILOXI ENCAMPMENT VISIT CITY

Traveled to Bay St. Louis Saturday in Army Equipment Trucks and Enjoy Luncheon at Hotel Weston—Gen. Hairston Heads Motorcade From Camp At Biloxi

SPLENDID INTEREST MANIFESTED IN FORTHCOMING FAIR

Benefit "Our Lady of Gulf" Church (Saturday-Sunday August 11 and 12)

Quite a number of boosters of the forthcoming fair met at the Catholic Rectory on Tuesday evening to discuss ways and means of making the festival a great success.

Every phase of the situation was gone into and it is a foregone conclusion that with the spirit evinced by those participating no stone will be left unturned to make the Fair the greatest ever held on the Gulf Coast. The very fact that the Fair will be thoroughly advertised along the Riviera and access to the Bay an easy and comfortable matter, via the Bay bridge, the festival will attract many visitors from neighboring Riviera cities.

This is the first time that an opportunity has ever been offered those "those on the other side," to participate and there is no doubt of a large attendance.

Everything is being whipped into shape for the occasion, when the time arrives things will be in ship-shape order.

The following ladies and gentlemen attended the meeting: Mesdames J. J. Ritayik, Claude Monhi, G. B. Boh, Theo. Tudury, Ed Griening, K. W. Pepperdine and Mrs. Horace Leach. Messrs. A. B. Hart, Jos. O. Mauffray, Henry LaRose, Ed Arceneaux, Geo. Schieb, Henry Scardie, Townsend Wolf, J. J. Ritayik, L. Benigno, Harry I. Saucier, and A. Saucier.

The fair will take place on Saturday and Sunday, August 11 and 12.

The 106th Engineers, 31st Division, Motor, Train Headquarters, the 122 Motor Transport Company and the 106th Engineer's Band, who are now in training at Camp Benjamin F. McClelland, the state National Guard Camp near Biloxi, visited Bay St. Louis Saturday in full force, headed by Adjutant-General Hairston, commanding officer at the camp, his staff and officers. The National Guardsmen, through arrangement made by General Hairston, enjoyed a delightful trip along the Coast from Biloxi to the Beuna Vista hotel, Biloxi the Herald Square, Gulfport, Lieut. Governor Bidwell Adam's home, at Pass Christian, The Hotel Weston, Bay St. Louis.

The guardsmen traveled in the heavy army equipment trucks, making about twelve miles per hour, the officers going ahead by auto and awaiting the arrival of the outfit.

Luncheon was served at the Hotel Weston at noon to the men before they made the return trip to the camp.

In discussing the Coast trip Gen. Hairston said: "I want the boys to see the Coast and I want the Coast folks to see what a fine outfit we have in training at the camp at Biloxi."

The camp will close Saturday of this week and Camp Beauregard will open Sunday. Gen. Hairston going from Biloxi to Beauregard where he will also command.

Gen. Hairston expressed himself as being well pleased with what had been accomplished at Camp McClelland this year. The drainage about the camp is almost completed. Sidewalks and streets were built and an electric light system installed at the camp. Trees are to be planted about the grounds and much building is to be done at the camp which will fit it suitably for all companies in Mississippi to train there next summer, Gen. Hairston said.

BAY SAINT LOUIS CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 10 WITH FULL FACULTY

Prospects For Coming Session Especially Bright, Says Supt. S. J. Ingram—Four New Teachers Are In Faculty

The teachers who will serve the Bay St. Louis public schools for the 1928-29 session have been announced by Superintendent S. J. Ingram, who last week completed his summer work at Tulane University and who is busily occupied with getting all school matters into good condition for the opening of school on September 10. A number of new teachers have been elected for the high school with only a few changes in the grade schools.

"The prospects for a good school year are especially bright," Prof. Ingram said. "I am very much pleased with the corps of teachers which has been elected to serve the schools and I anticipate a fine year. In all probability the enrollment will be an increase over last year and among the students we should find some very fine scholars and some good athletes," he said.

"With a coach for both boys and girls athletics the school should be able to hold its own with all schools of its size," he said.

Four new teachers for the high school have been chosen. Miss Clara B. Rogers of Potts Camp, Miss, a graduate of Mississippi State College for women and who is doing graduate work in Peabody College working toward her master of arts degree, will teach English. Miss Willie Lee Young of Hazlehurst, a graduate of Mississippi Woman's College, Hattiesburg, and who has done graduate work at Tulane University and Peabody College toward her master's degree will head the mathematics department. Miss Glen Simms of Kosciusko, a graduate of the University of Mississippi and who has done work at Peabody College toward her master's degree will have charge of the physical culture work and coach for girls and will do some grade work.

Coach for Boys' Athletics.
C. E. Craft, of Hattiesburg, a graduate of State Teacher's College, Hattiesburg has been chosen coach for boys' athletics and teacher of science. Mr. Craft has spent this summer at the University of Mississippi doing special work in science and studying practical coaching under Homer Hazel.

Miss H. Olga Teburn of New Orleans, a graduate of Tulane University and Soule Business College who has had special work this summer in commercial work, was re-elected to head the commercial department.

Miss Mabel Burns of Bogalusa, a graduate of Sophie Newcomb College who did graduate work this summer in Tulane summer school in history working toward her master's degree was re-elected for the second year to head the history department.

Miss Mary Florida Coscar of Charleston, Miss., a graduate of M. S. C. W., who headed the home science department last year was re-elected. This summer she has been touring Europe.

Miss Maxine Mitchell, teacher of the fifth grade, was re-elected for the fourth year. She attended summer school at the University of Mississippi this year.

Miss Julia Blaise of the Bay who attended summer school at Tulane this year was re-elected for the fourth year as teacher of the fourth grade.

Miss Martha Hall of Logtown who taught the second grade last year was re-elected. She attended summer school at Tulane this year.

Miss Luvenia Saucier of the Bay was re-elected to teach the second grade. This is her fourth year in the Bay schools. She attended summer school at State Teachers College, Hattiesburg.

Mrs. E. E. (Coline Fayard) Ashcraft, who has the honor of the longest term of any teacher in the Bay schools, was re-elected to handle the primary department. She studied this summer at State Teachers College, Hattiesburg.

Mrs. W. W. Stockstill of the Bay, for a number of years the efficient principal of the Webb School, was re-elected. She did summer work at Tulane University this year.

Miss Winnie Lee King of Gulfport was chosen for the third year as primary teacher at Webb school. She attended summer school at State Teachers College this year.

Taylor School.
Miss Helen Vaughn of Magnolia, who was principal of Taylor school last year, was re-elected to this position this year. She attended summer school at State Teachers College Hattiesburg.

The position of primary teacher for Taylor school has not been filled as yet though there are several applicants which the board and superintendent are considering.

The faculty for the Valena C. Jones colored school, has not been completed as yet.

CITIZENS DODGE DUTIES.

We observed recently, in a large city, where the death penalty is retained, that five hundred prospective jurors dodged jury service by declaring that they were against the death penalty. How do they expect the officers of the law to enforce law and order when they are without courage to do their duty?

The Sea Coast Echo does not love the death penalty, but realizes that it is for the punishment of a certain class of criminals. Kidnappers and cold-blooded murderers ought not to be allowed to slay and then to escape the consequences of their acts because of molly-coddle sentimentality that runs in the breast of some people.

A PHILANTHROPIC CITIZEN.

The death of William Elmer Harmon a few weeks ago removed a philanthropic citizen, many of whose benefactions were given to the public anonymously. Educated for a medical career Mr. Harmon had to abandon it and he took a job for a nursery where his selling talent was at once apparent.

Wishing to capitalize on his ability, he reasoned thus, as he told an interviewer years later:

"The surest way is to hit upon something that everybody wants make it possible for everybody to buy it and then let everybody know that I have it for sale. But what does everybody want? 'Land,' was my answer. That is what everybody would like to own. It wasn't easy to buy land in those days. The first payments were always so high that a man with little money could not meet them. So most folks went on wanting land, but they didn't buy any. I worked out a plan by which even the smallest wage-earner could buy a building lot. All the purchaser needed was one dollar to pay in cash and a few cents to pay each week. It was simply the installment plan applied to real estate, and I was, sure it would work."

Securing backing to the extent of two thousand dollars from two relatives and adding a thousand of his own money the scheme was tried in Cincinnati. Here a parcel of land was purchased, laid out into lots, and wooden sidewalks built. Then an advertisement was inserted in the newspaper. The success was astounding. Enough buyers came out to take all the lots and the same idea was then carried to other cities, with great success.

Mr. Harmon, however, was one of those citizens who, in success do not forget their fellow man. Constantly his thought was upon them and eventually he retired from active business to keep in touch with his charitable inclinations.

MENUS FOR BAY ST. LOUIS.

The housewives of Bay St. Louis are often hard put to find a pleasing "something" for dinner. How would they like the job of Sidney Greason, steward for Byrd's South Pole party, who has the job of buying and storing provisions for the party. Just think of planning your 1930 Christmas meal in the summer of 1928!

The selection of proper food, and the preparation of it, have much to do with the health of the boys and girls, and the older people of Bay St. Louis. The housekeeper has a real job. She should know something about foods, their relative functions in providing the body with what it needs, and above all the correct method of cooking. It is no easy job to feed a family so that each one will get what is best.

Of course, there are some housekeepers in Bay St. Louis who just take what they can get, slap it into a pot or pan, cook it and let the crowd eat it or leave it. That is poor business, indeed. The real preparation of food is a scientific undertaking, and more and more women of Bay St. Louis are approaching it in the scientific spirit than ever before.

The editor of The Echo heard once of a young couple, who planned twenty-one meals for a full week, and then, every week, for months they used the same menu. It was varied and contained what each liked. Strange to say, they report that the plan was wonderful, that they got more enjoyment out of the meals and had less trouble with planning than ever before. There was, contrary to what one might suppose, no overwhelming sense of sameness.

Other couple in Bay St. Louis might want to try this scheme. Take a night off, work out a schedule of meals that suits husband and children, giving to each some favorite dishes, and then sit back for two or three weeks and see the planning of meals disappear into the realm of things accomplished. Then write The Echo a letter and tell how you liked the idea.

IMPORTANT TO BAY ST. LOUIS.

Just at this time of the year it might be a good idea to remind the people of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county that the presidential election, important as it may be, is not the only political proposition before them. As far as this immediate community is concerned the selection of good men for local offices is very important and should not be lightly considered.

Voters who listen to candidates on the stump should be able to weigh what a man says and not swallow everything with a gulp. The average successful politician is a glib talker. He will tell you a lot of things, but you, as a voter, must have sense enough to weigh probabilities.

The man who has been wrong on things political all his life is pretty apt to stay wrong if elected. Don't pay too much attention to promised reform on the part of office-holders. Don't keep a man in office if he is inefficient in the duties of his office. Don't vote against a man for spite if he is the best man for the job. Even if you don't like a man your city or county may need his services. If he has been honest, efficient and courteous in his duties he is entitled to support.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES.

Reports from Washington intimate that campaign expenditures of the two larger parties will touch eight million dollars. This is a large sum, but when we consider the amount of money spent by a single manufacturer to popularize his product, it need not mean that the huge sum is to be used for corrupt purposes.

The story is that it takes workers to get out voters on election day and that the party with the most organized workers will get the most votes. We dislike to believe that story. We like to think that there are citizens of this country who will vote because of an abiding interest in the principles of their party, regardless of whether professional workers invite them to the polls or not.

We feel sure that Bay St. Louis has a number of such voters. Other sections also have them. Probably a large per cent of the voters go to the polls as a matter of personal interest but there is, it seems, a fringe of uninterested people who can be "enthused" and "voted" by the workers of the parties. For their benefit the money is spent.

INNOCENT COUPLE CONFESSED.

It is an interesting story from Alabama where Gov. Bibb Graves has pardoned Geo. Elder and Louise Butler, who were sentenced to the death penalty after confessing to the killing of a fourteen year old girl.

The girl, it seems, had lived with them, and after being whipped disappeared. Not knowing whether she was alive or dead and fearing the latter they confessed. Afterwards, some men, in a neighboring county recognized the girl and she was identified. Whereupon the pardon followed.

It is hard to understand why this couple plead guilty. Students of human nature will find it interesting because every once in awhile somebody "confesses" to a crime which the officers are sure was done by some one else. It is a strange phenomena.

Dread of big business fades; Raskob, financial head of the four billion dollar General Motors Company, is Democratic National Chairman. Owen D. Young, chairman of the Board of General Electric Company, one of the biggest corporations in America, is asked to run for Governor by Democrats in New York.

William Jennings Bryan, where he dwells in bliss, doubtless shudders at all this. But these are practical days; big business is practical, and it is well to recognize things as they are.

Some Calvinists, it seems, are still Calvinists like old John. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, will not attend the Olympic games. Calvinists in Holland are urged to stay away from what stern preachers call "a carnival of the flesh."

Dutch Calvinists say the Olympic games turn men away from Gogoltha to Greco-Roman paganism.

A majority of human beings have abandoned the John Calvin theory, which included the burning alive of Dr. Servetus on slight provocation, believing that the good Lord wants people to enjoy themselves occasionally.

Crime organizations seem to reach almost everywhere. One Sunday morning two dangerous man-killing gunmen escaped from Sing Sing Prison.

The same morning two Sing Sing Prison guards were arrested, accused of blackmailing motorists on the highway.

No wonder prisoners escape, when the jailers by night are highway blackmailers by day. A fine example to the prisoners in "reforming" prison atmosphere.

Jeritza will talk and sing in a "talking movie." "These Talkies" make a good start with this artist. The singer will get $10,000 a week or more. And while she rests, the old movie, he says, are no longer proud of their age and little reverence is paid it. Today the number past fifty is fifty per cent greater than in 1870.

Age is nothing to be proud of, since we grow old in spite of our efforts. But to be hard at work when you are old and EFFICIENTLY at work is something.

Young ladies that "don't seem to get any proposals" will marvel on hearing that our Peggy Joyce is about to be married again.

This will be her fifth husband and her second nobleman. Once Miss Joyce was the Countess Gosta Moerner, but she gave that up. The commoners had "good money." Happy No. 5 of everything goes smoothly will be Lord Northesk, whose wife, formerly Miss Jessica Brown, is now divorcing him.

"How does she do it?" young ladies ask. How did Helen of Troy do it, Cleopatra?

Miss Joyce, it is said, has a certain dash and swing in a night club that electrify the atmosphere. There are many "live ones" in night clubs.

Voters Have Their Hour Until Election.

"One—what was it the fellow said would make the whole world kin? Well, it makes very little difference for perhaps, they did not have political office seekers in that day and time. If these fellows are not kin to the rest of the voters in their precinct and voting area, they make them think they are.

This sudden interest in the voter, however, does not make itself evident until a few months prior to the get busy. Here he comes, his hand outstretched and a broad smile on his face. He has a lot of pleasant chatter to mix with you, but before he makes his departure, you have been informed that the said overly interested gentleman is a candidate for this or that office, and he would be glad to have your support on election day. He hands you a fine lot of guff. Maybe he is seeking the office on his ability to transact the affairs of said office, or maybe he needs the job to keep going, or perhaps there are a number of other reasons, which he considers sufficient to secure your support.

On the job of election there isn't anything too good for the said voters and nothing the said office seeker would not do for them. After the election, the picture undergoes a complete change in most cases. The fellow who fails to get elected has a lot of unkind things to say about the voters who failed to support him, and the fellow who gets elected forgets all about the voters who went to the polls in his behalf. The time for doing favors has passed, and you meet, many instances, a very hard boiled gentleman who has little for the common herd to do until the time rolls round for another election.

A certain gentleman commenting on these facts a few days ago: "Yes, I got out once in my life and worked like a son-of-a-gun for a certain candidate. I really did some hard putting out for him. In fact, so hard did I work that I actually incurred the ill will of some of my best friends who happened to be voting for another man. After the election was over, that particular candidate whom I supported was the successful contestant. He never even thanked me for the work I had done for him. In fact he seemed to have forgotten all about it, and if he did remember, took it as a matter of course. Well,

THE BEST CONDUCTION FOR WORK.

I suppose every writing man or any successful man is constantly in receipt of letters asking him about his personal habits. The correspondent always wants to know under what condition he does his work best. They even inquired as to what he eats and what kind of clothes he wears.

One of these correspondents once wrote to Bill Nye, asking what clothes he wore and how he dressed. He answered, "In the morning I wear morning dress and in the evening I wear evening dress" and at night I wear a night dress."

About the best rule for doing your best work is to find those conditions that suit you best, wherein the brain functions most effectively. What these conditions are varies in the case of different people.

Elie Metchnikoff, the little Russian Jew who became one of the famous "microbe hunters" and discovered that in the human body are cells hostile to disease microbes, said he could always carry on his experiments best when pretty girls were close by. In your case, however, this kind of surrounding might have a disturbing effect.

Paul Ehrlich, another experimenter, used to have the grind organ musicians play dance music outside of the laboratory. He said that his best ideas came when he heard gay music like that.

Dickens always had to have the same kind of slips of paper, blue ink and a quill pen when he wrote.

Stephen Foster, an American song writer, composed his melodies in a silent room with heavy carpets and draperies.

Newspaper men, used to the ceaseless noise of typewriters and the bustle of a copy room, sometimes find they can't work so well where all is quiet.

Mark Twain used to write his best stuff lying in bed wearing an old fashioned night gown. Frank R. Stockton produced his famous "Rudger Grange," dictating it while he lay in a hammock and sipped lemonade.

Hazlitt, the essayist, spoke enthusiastically about the benefits of a brisk outdoor walk. Many other people cannot think while walking.

Schubert scratched off some of his best songs at odd moments. One of his famous pieces was jotted down on the back of a bill of fare of a beer garden as he waited for a friend.

So the best thing to do is not to try to imitate somebody else, but to find the time when your own thoughts flow with the greatest ease and then work hard.

THE OASIS OF THE NATION.

(The American Riviera Review)

The American Riviera! Land of peace, rest and plenty! Stretching from Pensacola, Florida, on the south and east, to Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on the west; and bordering Pensacola Bay, Mobile Bay, Grand Bay, The Singing River of the Pascagoula, Mississippi Sound, Bay St. Louis, and the Gulf of Mexico! Land of alluvial shores, and beautifully wooded slopes, of wind streams and enchanting waters! May you ever grow and expand, and your manifold beauties of nature increase instead of diminish, with their man-made improvements!

To the visitor of the Gulf Coast Section, no thing is more noticeable than the grand scale upon everything is constructed. Her most excellent chain of concrete highways, her seawalls, her docks system, her broad bays, gulfs and sounds, her endless forests, inexhaustible resources, big herds, big crops, big men possibilities, and big aspirations are a constant source of wonder and amazement. Expecting to find a land of dreamy, slow-moving people, low swamp lands, and dilapidated buildings, he is amazed at her factories, commerce, flourishing fields, fleets of ships, cultured homes, and advanced civilization.

When the big business man grows weary in the pursuit of his chosen occupation, and longs for some exceptional spot, where he may rest, recreate, and think it all over—it is the object of the American Riviera Review to direct his tired footsteps to such a spot, to the "Oasis of the Nation," "The American Riviera." The name "Oasis" is suggestive of a surrounding desert, but not so intended here; it has only a relative significance. There is no desire to depreciate the rest of the nation in thus designating this the haven of rest, but only to emphasize its exceeding excellence by comparison.

An oasis is a place of peace and plenty, of green grass and shady trees, of refreshing waters, and birds and bees, of rest and recuperation for the weary traveler. The "American Riviera" would be an oasis in the sunny valleys of California, on the vine clad slopes of the European Riviera, or in any country, for that matter. Whether you be a globe-trotter or in search of recreation and adventure, or an invalid from the frigid North, seeking a change of climate, and rest and recuperation from the extremes of the Northern Winters, or the ordinary "bird of passage," drifting southward to the sunny lands of the Montezumas, you will here find satisfaction for all the wants of soul, mind and body.

That taught me a lesson. I have not gone out to tear my shirt any more for a candidate for any office. I go to the polls and vote, and outside of that, I let these candidates do their own fighting to be elected."

CHARM AND INTEREST ABOUND IN AND AROUND THE POTTERY AT DAPHNE

In a Setting of Rarest Oaks, on Eastern Shores of Mobile Bay, Here Sets Entrancingly the Pottery and Potter—One Can Browse All Day In Things of Clay

When visiting Mobile turn your auto over the long bridge over Mobile Bay and go to the beautiful Daphne town. Here is the potter and his pottery, where with plastic clay he and his assistants shape many things pleasing to the eye and interesting to the sense of being.

A representative of The Sea Coast Echo recently visited this spot—Paradise-like—and stopped at the pottery. It was Sunday and all was quiet, but nevertheless there were things to interest. The potter was there, however, and for the visitor and his party, wizard-like shaped several pieces of clay into any form he directed by the deftness of his finger and genius of his artistic sense.

Here was a good story for the newspaper man, but data was not easily obtainable, and promise was made to self that a week day return would be made in order to revisit and get the story for the columns of The Sea Coast Echo.

Recently this intention was made known to A. C. Stevens, presiding genius of the American Riviera Review, of Mobile, Ala. In turn, in answer to this desire, has written charmingly of the pottery. Here is the story, written especially for Echo readers. Visit the pottery on the eastern shores of the Bay when in Mobile again.

A. C. STEVENS.

The Daphne Pottery Company, of Daphne, Alabama, is owned and operated by Clarence V. Dryer. It has been under the present management for the past six years, prior to which, it was operated for ten years by Mr. Dryer's father.

The plant was originally built and used for the construction of tin cups, when clay cups were very much in vogue, and the present metal cups were unknown in the industry.

At odd times, when the owner and his employees were not actually engaged in the manufacture of their product, they turned to clay modeling of vases, urns, jugs, jars, chums, flower pots, clay furnaces, human figures, trees, bird baths, and jardains, as a matter of pastime and recreation. Different ones of the men used these for decoration of their homes, yards, and the grounds around the factory. Visitors to the plant and to the homes, scattered the news of the modeling of the stoneware and clay products to the world, and this in turn, brought a demand for the articles.

When clay turnpentine cups became a thing of the past, the demand for the stoneware and other products had grown to such an extent, that the pottery and its force of men took up the manufacture of these articles for a livelihood.

At the present time the grounds comprise three acres, of which two acres are clay land, and the other is the site of the factory itself, and the sheds composing it.

A pottery wheel has been installed, on which the articles are turned. Two potters and six assistants are actively engaged at all times in the production of clay products. The factory and grounds surrounding it represent a real worth of about $25,000.00.

The clay on the eastern shore, and especially in the neighborhood of the pottery at Daphne, is a regular potter's clay, especially adapted to the use of turning and modeling, just as it comes from the ground, without any cleaning process being used. Practically any picture, or clipping from newspaper or magazine, showing statuary, may be used by the potters, from which they turn out the article desired, a perfect replica of the picture itself.

Urn and jars are produced in sizes from the dimensions of the human hand itself, up to and including urns four feet in height.

The Old Spanish Settlers under DeSoto, who came to this section in the seventeenth century, started the making of the pottery, and some evidences and works of their art are scattered through this section at the present time. The production of like articles by various parties have been continued from that day to this.

The clay supply in Daphne is almost unlimited. The capacity of the present plant, with the addition of men to the present force, is likewise almost unlimited. The uncreated demand has kept the eight men at present employed in the factory, steadily engaged in their work of production for sixteen years, without any outside solicitation or advertising. It is believed that the floor of the addition of capital, traveling salesmen, advertising, and other means of exploiting the articles, that calls for an almost unlimited amount of pottery could be produced, and the demand supplied by the Daphne Pottery Company.

The Pottery, like Daphne's aged oaks, descends from generations far past and lends enchantment to the tourist, and to the students of the unusual, as they ramble from the potter's wheel, where Messrs. Grace and McAdams are whirling-gigging to lift from the dull clay the huge Spanish Urns which are exact replicas of those brought from Spain to this country.

The factory turns out pieces that sell up to $35.00 each in the 48" size. The jars produced which sell for $9.00 each or $18.00 per pair, in Daphne, are perfect duplicates of those sold in New York, imported from Spain, for $125.00, except perhaps for the age of the product.

Pottery urns were used for the decoration of lawns prior to cement walks at Daphne are many interesting articles, which can be readily appreciated by the connoisseur. The Spanish urns are inspected for their shape and style. One can almost imagine he smells the scent of factory nut oil, such as was given by the Indians to DeSoto when he camped at the Holy Grounds during his trip through Alabama in 1540.

When he looked at the unglazed clay jars such as the Indians used.

Jugtown is at hand when all sizes of jugs are found on display. The potter has to explain to the visitor the curiously shaped vessels, commonly called Monkey Jugs, but in reality Mexican Water Jugs, left unglazed to absorb the coolness of the breezes that fan them as they hang in their shady environs.

Bird baths, flower pots, strawberry urns, garden pots, bowls, crocks, all sizes of Mexican loving cups, vases for interior decoration, charcoal furnaces, household necessities, tinmies for house fires, tiles for farm drainage, and many other articles of a utilitarian nature come in for examination, and complete the story to be taken away by the art lover and the connoisseur.

Here's One Man Who Likes Number "13"

"13" may be an unlucky number for some folks, but a reporter for The Echo met a gentleman a few days ago with whom "13" seemed to have no ill omen. He rather boasted of the fact that this seemingly unlucky number had played such a conspicuous part in his life. He mentioned just some of the instances: His telephone number is "13"; his postoffice box is "13"; his house number is "13"; he was born on the 13th day of the month; he purchased the house in which he lives on the 13th day of the month. He has caused him no more hard luck than he would have had had they not been there. In other words he says that all this stuff about the unlucky "13" is bunk.

PRINTING PLANT PROBE IN KANSAS LIKELY IS REPORT

Unnecessary Expense in Operating State-Owned Plant in Charges

Charging that loose, inefficient methods in making purchases for the state printing plant have cost the taxpayers of Kansas many thousands of dollars have been made by J. H. Barley, of Washington. The charges are directed against the administration of B. P. Walker, state printer whom Barley opposes for re-nomination.

Barley indicated a program which is practically certain to call for some form of state investigation. According to state house reports the matter is already before William R. Smith, attorney general, and he will probably discuss features of the Barley charges with Governor Paulen. Both the governor and the attorney general are members of the state printing commission.

Following a partial check of buying records by the state printing plant, Barley has issued a statement in which he charges that in the period of four months from October 3, 1927, to February 10, 1928, Kansas taxpayers were penalized $18,000 on three items. Through inefficient or improper purchasing methods, Barley charges that the state has been forced to pay many thousands of dollars unnecessary cost for operation of the big printing plant. Barley claims that the $18,000 penalty came through methods employed by Walker in purchasing school book paper, binding cloth and binding board.

Suffering With SICK HEADACHES

Mr. Charles F. Todd, of Estesburg near Waynesburg, Ky., says: "I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have these headaches, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear."

"A merchant at Estesburg told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did."

"It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come on."

"Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do my work, and don't lose any more time with headache."

Hints for the Home

When we read that, according to statistics, each family spends $25 a year for soft drinks outside the home we realize a very nice saving could be effected by serving these beverages from the home fountain.

Almost any pungent syrup from canned or preserved fruit can be used with a lemon or orange juice base to make wholesome fruit drinks. Malted milk powder added to cold cola and well shaken makes an excellent chocolate malted milk, and the cold cereal beverages can also be combined with cracked ice and milk to make a delicious summer drink.

Not one of the drinks mentioned costs more than a few cents to make at home—so in the interest of economy, let's try this scheme of being our own refectory and see if it isn't a success.

A Comp'ny Dish for Tea

Butter the bottom of individual glass baking cups and drop a tablespoon of canned crab meat in each; add a tablespoon of cream, dot with butter or margarine and break an egg on top. Season well and bake until egg is set. Um—mm it's delicious!

Ever Try Jellied Soups?

At smart tea rooms and hotels jellied broths are in great favor for summer service, especially this cold tomato soup made by dissolving a tablespoon of lemon-flavored gelatin in half a cup of boiling water and adding it to the liquid from a can of tomatoes. First season juice with a teaspoon of sugar, pepper and salt and juice of an onion and simmer for ten minutes. Then add dissolved gelatin and set on ice until cold. Serve in cups with shipped cream if desired.

Don't Forget The Ice

In your enthusiasm over ice cream dainties don't forget fruit sherbets are just as tempting and often a better selection for summer meals. To a pint of any crushed ripe fruit add one and a half cups of orange juice and a cup powdered sugar (beet or cane). Cook until sugar melts, cool and freeze.

Gooseberry Time!

Ever try gooseberry jam? It's fine with roast meats. Measure four level cups crushed berries into large kettle, add 1-2 cup water and stir until boiling. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add 7-12 level cups sugar, use hottest fire and stir constantly. Bring to full rolling boil

"TAKE AWAY THE NEWSPAPERS AND STATE IS GONE"

Commissioner of Agriculture Pays High Tribute to Worth of Press

An organization of potential and actual force in our state is the Mississippi Press Association, according to J. C. Holton, state commissioner of agriculture. Mr. Holton attended the annual convention held at Gulfport last week and expressed his opinion of newspapers and their editors in the most complimentary terms.

"I have always appreciated the power of the press, more especially the 'country press,'" said Mr. Holton. "The home papers carry the home news, and are read from cover to cover by those whose first interest is in home affairs. They reach the people, and constitute a powerful influence of public sentiment."

"It is for this reason that we are sending a message to the people of the state each week through the country papers. Our office is regularly in receipt of information that farmers should have, and through the splendid co-operation coupled with the fact that they reach practically if not absolutely every home in the state, we are glad to say that our field of usefulness has been greatly enlarged."

"A wonderful factor for good is and boil hard one minute. Remove, pour, and seal."

Improves Flavor of Fruit Pies
Almost any berry pie will be improved if a little salt is added to the filling of the pie.

Makes Eggs Go Farther
When beating whites of eggs, add a tablespoon of water for each egg and you will have double the quantity of stiffly beaten eggs.

To Keep Bread Box Sweet
Bread molds quickly in hot weather, so keep containers free from scraps of stale bread, and scald at least twice a week in summer.

A Good Floor Polish
A small quantity of kerosene applied to hardwood floors and rubbed with a woolen cloth makes a very good and lasting polish. This may also be used for furniture.

To Silence Creaking Doors
Rubbing door hinges with hard soap will stop their squeaking and is much better than greasing. This also applies to drawers that stick.

Saves Fuel
Cook as many foods as possible while the oven is burning. Cooking half a dozen articles consumes no more gas than it does to cook one.

the country newspaper; worthy of the pride and support of folks at home, an avenue of commercial entrance to those who would sell their goods to our people. President T. L. Turner in his annual address eloquently described its importance in these words:

"Out yonder stands a locomotive about it is in order; water in the boiler, coal in the tender, engineer at the throttle, but it can't move. All it lacks is steam. Remove the newspapers from Mississippi, take away the 'steam' and this state would soon be a state of idle people; its credit gone. Weeds would grow in the streets of our towns and villages; our farmers would look for pastures never, manufacturers would depart from us, and our people would seek new fields of labor."

LOCAL LEGION PUTS ON FIRST BOXING MATCH AT NEW BAY STADIUM

Buster Malini Scores 5-Round Knockout Over Willie Bennett of New Orleans—In Semi-Final "Little Boy" Peterson Scores Over Cucurulla of Gulfport.

On last Thursday night some three or four hundred "dyed in the wool" fans, among them many of the fairer sex, witnessed the revival of the popular sport of boxing in Bay St. Louis.

The exhibition marked the opening of the new American Legion arena, at the corner of Hancock and Sycamore streets.

In the main bout, scheduled to go 10 rounds, Buster Malini, of Kiln well known among the fistful followers of Bay St. Louis and the entire Coast, scored a 5-round knockout over Willie Bennett of New Orleans, a protégé of Johnny Galloway, of the Gayoso Club.

Although Bennett put up a lively scrap, keeping the fans on their feet most of the time, mixing it with his opponent, and doing some very clever boxing, it was evident from the beginning that he was up against a tough scrapper, a slugger and one who can take 'em as well as he can punch, and if he expected to win would have to do some tall fighting.

The score was about even up to the fifth round when Bennett started mixing it up with Malini. A storm of rights and lefts to the head and body sent Bennett sprawling on his back for the final count. After about one minute's fighting in the fifth.

Semi-Windup

The semi-windup, scheduled to go six rounds, was cut short in the second, when "Little Boy" Peterson scored a clean knockout over Young Joe Cucurulla of Gulfport, in about the same fashion in which Malini finished Bennett.

The four-round preliminary was between Constance (Young) Higgins and T. J. (Kid) Bourgeois. At the end of the fourth round, when it looked as if a light breeze would knock either one down, referee Maniari raised Higgins' hand. Not so, he said. Higgins put up a nice scrap and with a little coaching will make a good little boxer.

AUG. 7 DATE FOR LEGION'S SECOND BOXING PROGRAM

All-Star Boxing Show—Roger Heitzman, Local Favorite to Meet Doran

The American Legion will stage an all-star boxing show Tuesday night, August 7, at 8 p. m. at their new arena, Sycamore and Hancock streets. Roger Heitzman, local favorite meets Buddy Doran of Boston, Mass., in a six round go. Doran, who hails from Boston, tops the scales at 135, and from the spirit of his training here, will be a good match for Heitzman. Doran arrived here from Bristol, Tenn., and is fresh from an eight round bout with Barney Google of Knoxville, "lightweight champion of Tennessee."

Both boys are working hard for this bout as the winner has been promised a ten round go with some good boy out of New Orleans for the next show. "Little Boy" Peterson, of Kiln, meets Irish Cobb of Biloxi in a six round go. Peterson made a fine impression in the opening show last week when he knocked out Young Cucurulla of Gulfport in the second round of a six round go.

Cobb comes recommended as a slugger and a great scrap is looked forward to.

Paul Favre meets Clarence Bourgeois in another six round go. Both boys are local products and are evenly matched so a good bout is on the card for those who attend. Promoter Egloff is looking for a good colored boy to meet Battling Monk; local colored mitt artist. Monk is having a hard time getting opponents to box him.

Popular prices will prevail. General admission 75c; ringside $1.25.

"Yes, suh," replied Sam, "I'll go to Hades and burn a long time."

"Quite right," declared the judge. "And you know what will happen if you tell the truth?"

COMMENT ON SPORTS

Gene Tunney came through with a crashing victory over Tom Heeneey in their battle last week. The fight goes far to establishing Gene as a real champion. Somehow folks had the idea that he beat Jack Dempsey solely because Jack was off his best form, and while there was a lot of truth in that, Jack Dempsey, when he met Gene Tunney, was no baby. Mr. Sharkey will tell you that.

Heeneey's style of attack was made for Gene Tunney, and the more the challenger sought out the champion the harder the blows that rained upon him. At the end of ten rounds, with face bleeding and resistance gone, Heeneey was out and the gong alone saved him from a knock-out. Revived by his seconds, who did a fast and thorough job, the Australian was back for the eleventh, but not for long. Referee Forbes, seeing that Tom had no defense, stepped between the pair and the fight was over.

Three weeks ago, in discussing the fight in these columns, it was written: "Heeneey has only one chance to win, by a knockout, before the eleventh round." "Tunney will win by points and may win by a knockout, although this is not probable during the first ten rounds." "Heeneey has a chance to win only before the eleventh round because champion will pick at his eyes and continue to smear them until Heeneey, like Dempsey, will be suffering from lack of vision after ten rounds."

While we made no effort to pick the winner, (that is foolishness), we feel that we did outline the result pretty well, always allowing for the fact that any challenger has a chance to win by a lucky punch in any fight. It didn't take Tunney quite as long to put Heeneey out of fighting commission as we thought it would. After the eighth round the Australian's defense was gone. Tunney also gave him more solid punishment than we expected, especially in the closing rounds.

The American Davis Cup Team, after crushing Italy, will play France for the cup. Without the service of Big Bill Tilden the Americans played great tennis against the Italians and easily won the right to meet the French.

The unexpected removal of William Tilden from the American Davis Cup Team brought a howl of protest from European sportsmen and newspapers.

They wanted to see him play and did not understand the action of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. The French Federation cabled New York to express its wish that Big Bill be authorized to participate in the matches and the popularity of Tilden in Europe has been repeatedly demonstrated since the action of the American authorities.

den should have been removed from the team we wish to point out that this occurrence emphasizes the comment in this column several weeks ago in discussing the furore over Charles Paddock, the sprinter. Tilden's removal was based upon objections to certain articles written in connection with the playing at Wimbledon. The question of the amateur status is a matter that will require considerable amplification.

After all this stir the re-instatement of Tilden was announced, due to his being said to be the American Ambassador in France. Well, what have you got to say about the initial suspension now? The question is, when is an amateur not an amateur?

JUDGE W. JOE PACK ANNOUNCES IN ECHO FOR RE-ELECTION

Resident of Laurel Filling Unexpired Term Judge Holden—On Bench at Present

In this issue of the Sea Coast Echo appears the announcement of Judge W. Joe Pack as a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court to fill the remaining four years of the unexpired term of Judge Holden, who is at present a member of this court.

Judge Pack is a citizen of Jones County, residing at Laurel, where he has lived since the early nineties. At the time of his appointment as a member of the Supreme Court, he was one of the leading lawyers of his section of the state.

Judge Pack, in his early career, taught school in the public schools of Jones county, then in the city schools of Biloxi, and afterwards served as Superintendent of Education in Jones county. He also served as County Prosecuting Attorney and has represented the Board of Supervisors of his county. He has practiced law for about a quarter of a century, during which time he has enjoyed a large and lucrative practice and which he had to give up to accept the appointment as Supreme Court Judge.

None but the best should occupy a place in the Supreme Court, our highest judicial tribunal. A court takes much of its character from the characters of the men who preside over its deliberations. A judge should be a man of clean life and living; he should be a good citizen; his moral record should be without blemish; his legal learning should be beyond question; his standing among his associates at the Bar should be one of respect and confidence; his honesty and sense of justice should be beyond the suggestion of any doubt. The friends of Judge Pack agree that in all respects, he measures up to the highest standard.

Judge Pack remained at his post of duty until the Supreme Court recessed for the summer vacation on June 11th, and is now actively engaged in his campaign. We are glad to commend the candidacy of Judge Pack to the voters of this district.

To Present Judge Griffith Upstate.

A party including Representative Brian Russell and Ex-Senator Carl Marshall of Bay St. Louis and former Chancellor D. M. Russell of Gulfport will make a trip this week-end to Simpson and Smith counties representing Judge V. A. Griffith at several speaking dates especially at Raleigh Saturday at a big picnic and rally. They will set forth the points of Judge Griffith's platform for supreme court member and will urge his candidacy with those met. This is the section where Judge Russell and son were former residents and their influence will be appreciable in those sections.

ALL the world swims in Jantzens

THROUGHOUT North and South America and at the pools and shores of other lands, Jantzens are notably popular with folks who swim.

Indeed, "swimming's the thing" these days almost everywhere. And it's so much easier to swim in a Jantzen—warm, snug, flexible. You'll marvel at the matchless... wrinkleless fit.

Jantzen material, consisting entirely of long-fibred wool, is tightly knitted by a process called Jantzen-stitch. It is extremely elastic.

And Jantzen's system of sizing by weight assures you the right size to start with. We have all the popular colors and styles in every size. And being dyed-in-the-wool, they're color-fast.

Mirrors of Mississippi

By Edgar S. Wilson

Jackson, Miss., August 1.—Reports reach Jackson that those in charge of the management of the Smith-Robinson presidential campaign are in constant consultation with Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, whose counsel and advice they esteem most highly. The consensus is that when Smith becomes president, Senator Harrison will be tendered a cabinet portfolio. Should he accept he will be the first native cabinet officer from Mississippi.

There have been four Mississippians in the cabinet since Mississippi was admitted into the Union in 1817, in the order named: Jefferson Davis, Secretary of War in the cabinet of Franklin Pierce; Robert J. Walker, Secretary of the Treasury in the cabinet of James K. Polk; Jacob Thompson, Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of James Buchanan; and L. Q. C. Lamar, Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland. None of these cabinet officers were natives of Mississippi, Davis being a native of Kentucky; Walker of Pennsylvania; Thompson of North Carolina; and Lamar of Georgia. Senator Harrison is a native of Mississippi. He was born in Copiah county.

Mississippi has had two native sons members of cabinets but they resided in other states at the time of their appointment. These were Jacob M. Dickerson of Lowndes county, who was Secretary of War in the cabinet of Taft, and Watt Gregory, also of Lowndes county, Attorney General in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson. Dickerson was a resident of Illinois when he was a member of the Taft cabinet, and Gregory resided in Texas when he was appointed a member of the Wilson cabinet. Both are prominent in the affairs of their states.

The largest poultry farm in Mississippi and one of the greatest in the country is at the Mississippi State Insane Hospital. From a fourteen chicken flock it has grown to 24,000. It has an incubator with a capacity of 9,600 eggs, 30 colony houses, 37 laying houses, and 2 brood houses. It is operated solely for the patients of the Insane Hospital, of which Dr. C. D. Mitchell is the capable and popular superintendent.

In 1927, 6,000 chickens were killed and served to the patients and 57,000 eggs furnished to the hospital. This at market prices was a saving to the institution of fully $10,000 a year. Credit for this wonderful success is given to H. H. Hines, than whom there is no more expert poultryman perhaps in the United States. Mr. Hines is a native of Rankin county. A modern poultry farm is understood to be on the program at the new Insane hospital which is being built at Whitfield, Rankin county.

Associate Justice George H. Ethridge has written a book which will soon come from the printer, interpreting the constitution enacted in 1890. This book will also contain a gist of the supreme court decisions of Mississippi construing that constitution, the constitution of Mississippi, the constitution of the United States, the Confederate Constitution, and the defense by Senator George of the franchise articles of the Mississippi constitution of 1890 in the United States Senate.

The State Democratic Executive Committee appointed Walker Wood, Secretary of State, to act with Chairman Noel White in the preparation and sending out of sample ballots and tally sheets for the holding of the state wide primary election on August 21. Messrs White and Wood are at work on the same, which they will place in the hands of the secretaries of the county executive committees of the eighty-two counties of the state in due time.

We're Learning To Live

There is little wonder that we are making greater and greater use of the conveniences which are at our command today. Luxuries—we called them five or ten years ago, and we cast doubts at their practicability. Now when we look back at those antiquated methods of living, we realize that we were only blinding ourselves to the inevitable improvements which are continually adding to the fullness of life.

Five years ago many people still classed as needless luxuries indispensable small gas and electric household appliances which we now consider standard equipment in the home. Only two or three years back some folks still thought of their gas range as they did their front parlor—something one should have but certainly far too expensive to enjoy to the fullest extent. In those days an electric range, water heater or refrigerator was not even considered.

Now people are learning that it is false economy to deny themselves and their families comforts and conveniences which mean so much. They are buying more gas and electric home helps and making fuller use of those they have. Their gas and electric bills are somewhat higher it's true, but not in comparison with the increased comfort and pleasure they buy. Such expenditures are not expenses—they are investments in living.

LIVING COSTS NATURALLY FOLLOW OUR STANDARDS UPWARD, BUT THE DOLLARS SPENT FOR UTILITY SERVICE BUYS MORE VALUE THAN ANY OTHER.

WAVELAND CHURCH SCORED HEAVILY ON SATURDAY-SUNDAY

Leadership of Ed. C. Carrere Is Potential — Various Booths and Workers

Although threatened with rain the fair to aid St. Claire's church, held last Saturday and Sunday evenings was a big success. The experience gained two years ago under the leadership of Mr. Ed. C. Carrere was not forgotten and again by unanimous consent, himself excepted, he was obliged to assume the role of chairman. As an organizer his ability was easily recognized and it is to be hoped that for the future he will always be available for that position; at least, after Sunday night there were some few who suggested that he be made permanent chairman in order that the proceeds may always be kept above the thousand mark. The fair this year was held at the pavilion on Waveland avenue, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. O. M. Villere. Needless to say the change of scene made no change in the receipts as the booths testified.

The crowds were beautifully led by Miss Lizana and Mrs. E. W. Kokemur, both ladies were tireless workers and were always ready to serve their customers with tempting eatables. This seems to be the "hard worked" booth, as it was a real kitchen, but on a larger scale. We agree with Mrs. Kokemur, who served beer (50-50) at the same booth, that if he ever builds a new house there will be no kitchen attached lest he may sometime have to work therein. Mr. A. C. Brown, who served pop at the same booth, assisted by Mr. Heisler was in perfect agreement with him.

The card booth was in charge of Mr. Ed Carrere, ably assisted by Mrs. J. D. Nix, Messrs Cyril Claverie and Donald Blanchard. This booth did the largest business not alone regarding the quantity sold but the prices paid and the money realized. As some one remarked, "you could buy a calf for the money spent before you won a box of candy."

The cake table presided over by Miss Anna LeJeune with her assistants, Miss Marion Fournier and Mr. P. H. Kammer, was well stocked with cakes but not at the end of the fair. They were disposed of "retail and wholesale" according to the managers the "retail" we saw, but so far we have not found a single cake bought at "wholesale" price.

The country store did a brisk business. Mrs. O. M. Villere, together with Mr. Villere ran the cash register out of tickets and their customers out of money. They certainly can run a store. Mr. and Mrs. Cassin took care of the ice cream. The weather did not favor their product, but still they managed to get rid of all at good prices.

The fancy booth was in charge of Miss Alvin Bourgeois. This booth had some pretty articles which were sold at "pretty prices." The Misses Clarice and Marie Bourgeois with Mr. Scheib being the ticket agents. The grab bag, surprise box, and fish food were handled by the Misses DePietre, Elsie and Delta Lizana, Lorie Yarbrough, Antionette Smith, Katharine Morali, Melvin Nicklis, Margaret Meyers.

Mr. A. F. Fournier as usual had charge of the band. The committee wish to thank all those who assisted whether as workers or patrons in making the fair such a wonderful success and trust that they will accept this as a public acknowledgment.

Guilty of Entering House

A negro, James Reed, who is about 30 years old, was arrested in Lakeshore after he had entered a house occupied by Mr. Lader and family. The negro went into the house where members of the family were sleeping and was discovered using a search light to snoop about the rooms. It was said that one of the men in the house waited on a chair and threw a hatchet at him, missing him. The negro was tried before Mayor Geo. Herlihy of Waveland and upon evidence presented was sentenced to six months in the county jail. This is the same negro who was tried in Bay St. Louis on a charge of annoying people by going into their yards and was released several weeks ago because of the lack of sufficient evidence against him, it was said.

Highway Crew Repairs Bay St. Louis Bridge.

The bridge highway crew of the state highway department is spending this week in the Bay occupied with some repair work and adjustments on the new traffic bridge over the Bay of St. Louis at the draw span. Jack Ferris is in charge of the repair crew which includes three white men and seven negroes. The repair work consists in the installation or replacement of several iron bars and a few minor repairs, also some adjustments on the draw span itself. Work began on the repairs Monday and will occupy almost all of this week to complete, it was said.

Stolen Auto Recovered.

A Red sedan belonging to C. P. Saur of the Bay, which was brought to Bay St. Louis for internment, has been recovered and returned to its owner. The car was found in the hands of a man who had been driving it since it was stolen from the Saur family.

JOHN GILBERT'S NEW FILM HAS FINE REALISM

"The Cossacks" Is Made In Environment of Actual Russia

Several hundred people including a Cossack troop, were made by the Metropolitan Studios in a small, little known canyon in the hills, just east of the city of Moscow, for the "The Cossacks" John Gilbert's new starring vehicle, which comes to the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday nights along the Coast. The Russian border, it seems, is a very special kind of scenery. For ages snows have melted on them and worn them down into fantastic towers and minarets and painted them with bizarre lines and figures.

In the hills behind Laurel Canyon in California, the ever-busy location men found similar rocks. The frost had etched in as the snows had the rocks in Russia. The towers and minarets were probably of volcanic origin, but anyhow they looked Russian and at the cost of a small fortune, the troupe, a small army almost, was moved to these rocks.

In "The Cossacks" everything is so intensely Russian that the picture will be exactly the same product that it would have been had the principal and cameramen actually gone to Russia to film it. The extras are Russians, few, in fact, able to speak English. They were recruited from Russian settlements in California, most of them bringing their own national costumes and household goods that came with them from the country. The Cossacks were specially brought from Europe for the picture.

"Since all this was done," said George Hill, director, "to gain real Russian atmosphere, even the music for the actors being furnished by a balalaika orchestra. It would have been foolish to have had a mistake in a natural background. Hence the infinite care in locations. We picked the site for the village by hunting for a location where the trees were those seen in Russia. There were a few trees that didn't fit in the picture. These were carefully removed before the Russian town was built."

The Cossacks had their own menu. John Gilbert says they subsist mostly on "hogs and tomatoes," as pork, prepared after their own recipe, and soup of tomatoes, formed the principal item on their bill-of-fare. The new picture is a vivid romance of life on the steppes, with Gilbert as a young Cossack soldier during the warfare with the Turks. It is an intimate study of the evolution of the soul of youth from a poet, becomes a swashbuckling warrior as the result of his environment. Renee Adoree plays the heroine, as Gilbert's Cossack sweetheart, and Ernest Torrence is his father, the old chieftain, with Mary Hurst, Neil Neely, Mary Alden, Josephine Bann, Dale Fuller, and others of note in the cast.

City Officers Make Raid.

The three city officers, A. E. Saucier, Mark Oliver and "Son" Cap-deon raided the home of Sam Wilson, negro, on St. George street Monday and found some home brewed liquors. The officers had evidence that Wilson had been selling liquor and he was charged with the sale of intoxicating liquors. He was tried before Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr. Monday morning, found guilty and sentenced to $25 fine and 30 days in jail.

Arrest Four Negroes.

Night policeman A. E. Saucier arrested single handed four negroes one night last week. Six negroes were discovered breaking into an L. & N. freight car loaded with water-melons. The approach of the officer caused the negroes to run and Saucier caught four of the six. He shot once to frighten the negroes into stopping.

LOVELY BRIDGE LUNCHEON GIVEN BY THREE HOSTESSES.

One of the loveliest parties of the summer season was the bridge-luncheon given Tuesday afternoon at The Answer by three charming hostesses, Mrs. George R. Rea, Miss Emma Edwards and Miss May Edwards. Tables had been arranged in the spacious reception suite of The Answer and a variety of summer flowers were used artistically in effective decoration. To receive their guests the hostesses were prettily gowned, Mrs. Rea wearing flowered crepe, Miss May Edwards wearing grey figured georgette and Miss Emma Edwards wearing black and white georgette.

The well planned and daintily served luncheon was enjoyed by the guests at the card tables. After the removal of the luncheon bridge was the diversion. An interesting game resulted in Mrs. Winfield Partridge winning first prize, Mrs. Ed Carrere second prize, Mrs. A. Marx of Houston, Texas, third prize and Mrs. George Penn, consolation prize.

Those enjoying the delightful party included: Mesdames John Bry-an, E. J. Lacoste, Chas. G. Moreau, Rene DeMontigny, Mrs. E. Kenney, Gaston Lemaire of New Orleans, J. J. Evans, C. C. McDonald, A. A. Marx of Houston, Texas, E. J. Leonard, A. F. Fournier, Winfield Partridge, R. H. Boh, H. U. Canty, J. C. Nisbet, Owen Crawford, Valentine Dell, George Penn, Killeen of New Orleans, P. Smith, Horace Kergosien, M. Phillips, J. U. Jordy, J. C. Buckley, J. J. Rityak, Wm. A. Stachle, C. A. Spori, Mrs. Ridenhour, of Mobile, Ed Carrere, John Welch, H. C. Glover, K. W. Pepperdene, Newton Hew, Killeen, Misses Elsie and Hilda Spori, Mrs. Carr, and Irwina Lorch, Vickey Gex, Ethel DeArmas, Evelyn Lacoste, Margaret Green and Miss Coffey and the three hostesses.

ENTERTAINS THURSDAY CLUB.

Miss Irwina Lorch was hostess last week to the Thursday Night Bridge Club, entertaining at her home. The two tables of players enjoyed a pleasant bridge game. Miss Elsie Spori won the prize. The hostess served a cooling ice course at the close of the game.

TWO TABLES OF BRIDGE.

Mrs. George Pitcher was hostess at a pleasant night bridge party complementing two tables of players. Mrs. E. J. Lacoste won first prize, and Mrs. Bertin won second prize, as scores were counted. The hostess served a tempting party menu.

MONDAY NIGHT CLUB.

Mrs. Jos Chalona of Clermont Harbor was hostess this week to the Monday Night Bridge Club, entertaining Tuesday night. She entertained in her lovely new home which she has occupied only this week. The house is featured with its wonderful out-spreading porches and tables for play were placed on one of the screened porches where gaily colored lamp shades and potted plants and ferns created a delightful effect, overlooking the water through pine trees on the lawn. At the close of an interesting game the hostess assisted by Mrs. Larry Maloney served a two course party menu.

LUNCHEON GUESTS.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald entertained informally at luncheon Wednesday noon in compliment to Mrs. Albert A. Marx of Houston, Texas, the niece of Mrs. C. M. Shipp who is in the Bay recuperating. Mrs. McDonald had as guests Mrs. Marx, Mrs. C. M. Shipp and Mrs. J. A. Evans. The table was centered with a silver vase bearing summer flowers and a dainty course luncheon menu was served.

INVITATION FOR REGATTA.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club is in receipt of a written invitation to members to enter their boats in the annual regatta which the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans will open Saturday, August 4. The invitation requests the officers of the Bay-Waveland club to attend the regatta as honor guests.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE.

The dance given Saturday night at Hotel Weston was quite a brilliant one with a representative group of the dancing set from the Bay and along the Coast present to enjoy a pleasant evening. The music was furnished by the Owls' orchestra of New Orleans. This is the first dance given at the Weston under the new management and J. U. Jordy, manager, is to be congratulated upon the unqualified success of the evening.

HANDSOME CAR.

Mrs. E. J. Leonard has just received a handsome new Packard automobile and is enjoying the smooth mechanism of this beautiful car. She has recently moved into her lovely home which is almost new with many fine additions and changes and attractive furnishings. A new car, a new home, both are delightfully right for this charming lady.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. C. McLean of Clermont Harbor was hostess last Tuesday at a delightful two table bridge party complementing her guest, Mrs. Shephard. Those playing were Mesdames Jos. Chalona, Drosky Shephard, Nathan, Ernest, Magab, G. J. Muller and the hostess. A tempting party menu was served by the hostess.
